The screenshot shows a mobile app interface for a user named "Gurney Halleck". At the top, there's a circular profile picture placeholder and three vertical dots for more options. Below the name is a button labeled "Unfollow". The navigation bar has two tabs: "Notes" and "About".

The main content area features a grey banner with the heading "Conflicting sets of recovery keys added!". Below this, a message states: "This could indicate that this account may or not be compromised, please review to determine the truth." followed by a blue link "Learn More".

Below the banner are two items:

- A checked item from November 7th, 2024 UTC (ID: 70075595e...00215de10) showing "3 of 5 keys" with five circles, where the first one is filled.
- An unchecked item from December 12th, 2024 UTC (ID: 6f8803c71...ead73ad48) showing "2 of 3 keys" with three circles, none of which are filled.

Below these items is a note: "Lady Jessica and 12 others that you follow have attested to this key."

At the bottom, there's a toggle switch set to "off" next to the word "Public". A dark grey button at the very bottom says "Review & Save".
